(b) A savings association that receives a profit or commission in violation of subsection (a) shall be surcharged an amount equal to the profit or commission. In addition, a court with jurisdiction over the estate, guardianship, or trust may remove the savings association as the fiduciary.

federal savings associations domiciled in Indiana.

(b) Subject to this section, savings associations may exercise the rights and privileges that are granted to federal savings associations.

(c) A savings association that intends to exercise any rights and privileges that are:

- (1) granted to federal savings associations; but
- (2) not authorized for savings associations under:
 - (A) the Indiana Code (except for this section); or
 - (B) a rule adopted under IC 4-22-2;

If available, copies of relevant federal law, regulations, and interpretive letters must be attached to the letter.

(d) The department shall promptly notify the requesting savings association of its receipt of the letter submitted under subsection (c). Except as provided in subsection (f), the savings association may exercise the requested rights and privileges sixty (60) days after the date on which the department receives the letter unless otherwise notified by the department.

(e) The department may deny the requested rights and privileges if the department finds that:

- (1) federal savings associations in Indiana do not possess the requested rights and privileges;
- (2) the exercise of the requested rights and privileges by the savings association would adversely affect the safety and soundness of the savings association;

If the sixty (60) day period is extended under this subsection, the savings association may exercise the requested rights and privileges only if the savings association receives prior written approval from the department. However:

(1) the department must:

(A) approve or deny the requested rights and privileges; or

(B) convene a hearing;

not later than sixty (60) days after the department receives the savings association's letter; and

(2) if a hearing is convened, the department must approve or deny the requested rights and privileges not later than sixty (60) days after the hearing is concluded.

(g) The exercise of rights and privileges by a savings association in compliance with and in the manner authorized by this section does not constitute a violation of any provision of the Indiana Code or rules adopted under IC 4-22-2.

(h) If a savings association receives approval to exercise the requested rights and privileges granted to national savings associations domiciled in Indiana, the department shall determine by order whether all savings associations may exercise the same rights and privileges. In making the determination required by this subsection, the department must ensure that the exercise of the rights and privileges by all savings associations will not:

(1) adversely affect their safety and soundness; or

(2) unduly constrain Indiana consumer protection provisions.

(i) If the department denies the request of a savings association under this section to exercise any rights and privileges that are granted to national savings associations, the company may appeal the decision of the department to the circuit court with jurisdiction in the county in which the principal office of the savings association is located.

Regulation of adjustable mortgage loans

Sec. 14. Adjustable mortgage loans are subject to the following:

(1) Adjustments to the principal loan balance are permissible only if:

(A) the initial payment amount is sufficient to fully amortize the loan at the beginning of the loan term; and

(B) the payment amount is adjusted at least every five (5) years to amortize the loan at the current interest rate and principal loan balance over the remaining term of the loan.

(2) Prepayment in full or in part shall be allowed without penalty.

(3) Adjustments to the interest rate must correspond directly to the movement of the money cost index, subject to such rate-adjustment limitations, if any, as a savings association may provide. For the purposes of this subdivision:

(A) the initial money cost index value is the value of the money cost index most recently available within six (6) months before the date of the closing of the loan; and

(B) the interest rate at adjustment shall reflect the difference, in reference to the interest rate of the loan on the date of closing, between the initial money cost index value and either:

(i) the money cost index value most recently available as of the date of rate adjustment, if the payment is not simultaneously adjusted; or

(ii) the money cost index value most recently available as of the date of notification of a payment adjustment.

However, when the movement of the money cost index permits an interest rate increase, the savings association may decline to increase the interest rate by the indicated amount. The savings association may decrease the interest rate at any time.

(4) The borrower may not be charged any costs or fees in connection with regularly scheduled adjustments to:

- (A) the interest rate;

- (2) during a period of not more than ten (10) years beginning with the closing date of the loan, the scheduled payments must rise sufficiently to amortize the loan at the then existing interest rate and principal balance over the then remaining loan term, and thereafter the monthly payments must be adjusted every five (5) years to a level sufficient to fully amortize the loan.

As added by P.L.193-1997, SEC.2.

- (4) The lender may not charge a penalty or other assessment for the prepayment of the loan.
- (5) The lender and the borrower may agree to increase or decrease the interest rate applicable to the outstanding balance of the loan at each adjustment.
- (6) The lender may grant the borrower the option of extending the amortization period for purposes of calculating monthly payments on the loan in accordance with the following rules:
 - (A) The extension of the amortization period may equal up to one-third (1/3) of the original amortization period, regardless of whether this extends the amortization period beyond thirty (30) years.
 - (B) To the extent of any extension of the amortization period, the amortization period will be reduced upon a subsequent downward adjustment in the interest rate.
